

Doctoral Summer School 2026

September 1–2, 2026 | Prague | In English

Would you like to boost your skills and enhance your research career?

Join us for the Doctoral Summer School at the National Library of Technology (NTK) for two days of inspiring workshops, lectures, and networking.

Doctoral Summer School
2026

What can you expect?

- Keynote session on What Comes After the PhD? Navigating the Path to Research Leadership (Dr. Aleš Kudrnáč, Dr. Tomáš Pluskal)
- Workshop: Boost Your Career Prospects: Funding Opportunities and Grant Proposal Writing (Dr. Sabine Preusse)
- Workshop: Visual Communication in Research: From Exploration to Impact (Dr. Radka Pittnerová)
- Workshop: Decision-Making Techniques for Early-Career Researchers (Dr. Jan Froněk)
- Discussion Panel on Equal Opportunities in Czech Science

What past participants have to say about the Doctoral Summer School:

“The workshops were led by really excellent and experienced tutors...”

“... the event offered a great balance of inspiring lectures and insightful discussions...”

“[it helps me] to gain more knowledge on how to be more efficient and more easily to finish the PhD with the same effort.”

“It opened my eyes to other opportunities, and gave me ideas how to continue in my research life.”

“You will get totally new friends from different universities and fields of study.”

Who can apply?

Doctoral candidates and early-career researchers (up to 1 year after PhD)

Fee: 1 250 CZK

Registration is open till June 15, 2026!

Additional information and registration:

<https://www.techlib.cz/u/DSS2026>

